'Unlike my namesake in the old song, I don't like to keep my men waiting – at least not for sex. There's a bit of the old cavewoman in my blood I think. I like to make the running, undress him, push him on the bed, straddle him and then have my wicked way with him. It's usually quite a pleasant surprise for him.' ♣

'I feel I have become more sexually aware in the past month or so – more awakened to the needs of my own body. I know it sounds silly, but I have yoga to thank for that. I've been going out with a guy who's really into it and he's the one who has encouraged me to take more of an interest in myself and my sexuality.

'I am no longer embarrassed or ashamed, as I used to be, of masturbating in front of him, giving away my innermost desires. I like to thrust myself at him provocatively, all the time caressing my nipples, belly, pubes and clitoris. This arouses him as much as it does me, and I can hardly wait to get his beautiful cock in one of my orifices – he tastes divine!' ♣
